FOREWORD

*M*ANY obstacles have confronted us in the course of publishing this annual. Many times our goal seemed impossible to achieve, but with unflinching determination we followed our charted course and overcame each obstacle in turn, and each with equal success. Now that our task is completed, the effort expended appears minimal in face of the numerous benefits which we ardently desire our school to derive from this publication. We trust that this pictorial review, in years to come, will serve as a revival of pleasant memories of the years spent in our Alma Mater. Further, we trust that it will serve to inform and acquaint the people of Arkansas with the magnitude of their medical school. Motivated by the foregoing aims and stimulated by the enthusiastic response of all, we felt it incumbent on us to again present THE ARKANSAS CADUCEUS.

The entire staff joins the editor in a sincere expression of thanks to all who have made possible the successful conclusion of this undertaking with their unselfish contributions of time and money. The editor, on his part, wishes to commend all the members of his staff for their hearty cooperation and loyalty.

SCHOOL HISTORY

THE University of Arkansas School of Medicine was founded and organized by a prominent group of Little Rock physicians in 1879. At that time it was known as the Medical Department of the Arkansas Industrial University. Its first class was comprised of twenty-two students, mainly physicians, who were interested in further advancing their knowledge of medicine. In March, 1880, after a five months course of lectures, the school conferred its first degree of Doctor of Medicine on one student, Tom M. Pinson. He was the only student to receive the distinction that year. In 1911, the school was merged with the Little Rock College of Physicians and Surgeons and together they were known as the University of Arkansas School of Medicine. At this time, on the advice and recommendation of the State Medical Society, the State of Arkansas formally assumed complete financial and administrative control of the school. Previous to this merger the school was supported entirely by the tuition fees of its students and the liberal contributions of interested physicians from all over the state. In assuming the entire responsibility for the welfare of the school, the state has made possible the maintenance of a high standard of medical practice here in Arkansas by constantly providing for the rapidly growing scope of medical education. The school has since grown by leaps and bounds and it now occupies a modern six-story building which was completed in 1935, and ranks among the best in the country. It is located on the Edwin Bentley Estate opposite the Little Rock City Park. On the grounds of this park, Dr. James H. Lenow performed the first human dissection in Arkansas in 1874. The school curriculum now covers four years of study as compared to the original five months. An average of seventy or more students are graduated yearly and there is a total enrollment of about three hundred. In 1939, the school acquired complete control of the Little Rock City Hospital which has since been completely remodeled and modernized. The hospital is supported entirely by state funds and is an integral part of the medical school. The acquisition of this institution has added materially to the clinical teaching facilities of the school and has once again assured the people that the high standards of the medical profession in Arkansas will be maintained. The entire facilities and staff of the School of Medicine are at the disposal of all Arkansas physicians for the purpose of diagnosing and treating difficult and unusual cases. All services are rendered free of charge to the less fortunate citizens of this state who cannot afford private medical care or hospitalization.

EXPLOITATION of the MEDICAL PROFESSION

EVERYWHERE it is rampant—newspapers, magazines, billboards, window displays, etc., radio. “Your doctor will tell you that . . .” “Medical science has found that . . .” “The greatest specialists in Timbuctoo say that . . .” And the rest of the story is, of course, “Use our pills or our vitamins three times a day; ask your doctor.”

For three decades and in dozens of ethical ways we have given practical effect to the Mead Policy. We hold the interest of the medical profession higher than our own, for we too, no doubt, could sell more of our products were we to advertise them directly to the public. When more physicians specify MEAD'S Products, when indicated, more babies will be fed by physicians because Mead Johnson & Company earnestly cooperate with the medical profession along strictly ethical lines and never exploit the medical profession.

Dextri-Maltose Nos. 1, 2 and 3; Dextri-Maltose with Extracts of Wheat Embryo and Yeast; Mead's Pectin-Agar in Dextri-Maltose; Mead's Oleum Percomorphum (liquid and capsules); Mead's Viosterol; Mead's Viosterol in Halibut Liver Oil (liquid and capsules); Mead's Cod Liver Oil with Viosterol; Mead's Halibut Liver Oil; Mead's Standardized Cod Liver Oil (plain and flavored); Mead's Brewers Yeast (tablets and powder); Mead's Thiamine Hydrochloride Tablets; Mead's Ascorbic (Cevitamic) Acid Tablets; Mead's Nicotinic Acid Tablets; Mead's Cereal; Mead's Powdered Lactic Acid Milk Nos. 1 and 2; Alacta; Mead's Powdered Protein Milk; Pabulum; Olac; Casec.
